To request removal of allegedly infringing material appearing on our sites or services, send a written DMCA Notice to the Designated Agent that includes all of the following:

1. Signature of the copyright owner or a person authorized to act on the owner's behalf (physical or electronic).
2. Identification of the copyrighted work claimed to have been infringed, or a representative list if multiple works at a single online location are covered by one notification.
3. Identification of the material that is claimed to be infringing or to be the subject of infringing activity and that is to be removed or access to which is to be disabled, and information reasonably sufficient to permit us to locate the material (exact URL(s) required).
4. Contact information for the complaining party (name, mailing address, telephone number, and email address).
5. A statement that the complaining party has a good-faith belief that use of the material in the manner complained of is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law.

1. Your physical or electronic signature.
2. Identification of the material that has been removed or to which access has been disabled and the location at which the material appeared before it was removed or access to it was disabled (the exact URL).

Upon receipt of a valid Counter-Notice, we may restore the material in 10-14 business days at our discretion, unless the original complaining party notifies us that they have filed an action seeking a court order to restrain you from engaging in infringing activity.

4) Repeat Infringers

It is our policy to terminate, in appropriate circumstances, accounts of repeat infringers. We may also remove content and take additional action at our discretion if a user repeatedly violates intellectual property rights.

Please note that any person who knowingly materially misrepresents that material or activity is infringing (or was removed by mistake or misidentification) may be liable for damages, including costs and attorneys' fees, incurred by us, the alleged infringer, or the copyright owner or its licensee.
